Police, FBI seek help identifying suspect in G.H. bank robbery

Garfield Heights police and the Cleveland Division of the FBI are looking for information on a suspect who robbed Ohio Catholic Federal Credit Union on April 2 at about 4 p.m.

The man entered the bank at 13623 Rockside Rd. in Garfield Heights with a note that said, "Give me your money, no dye pack, do not set off alarms," according to the police report. The teller complied with the suspect's demand and gave him the top drawer containing money. He took six $100 bills and 29 $50 bills totalling about $2,050 in cash from the drawer. He left the rest of the money on the counter and fled the bank on foot in the direction of Thraves Avenue.

Police arrived on scene with K9 Arlo and tracked the suspect to the 13000 block of Grannis but did not locate him, according to the report.

Indy Patrolman Jim Martin gets special honor at council meeting

By Danielle Toth

Brian Fitzgibbon, enforcement supervisor with the U.S. Marshals Service and Northern Ohio Violent Fugitive Task Force, attended the regular meeting of Independence Council on April 9 to honor Jim Martin, Independence patrolman and part-time special deputy U.S. Marshal assigned to the Northern Ohio Violent Fugitive Task Force, for his service and dedication.

Martin was assigned to this role by Chief Michael Kilbane after he and Fitzgibbon discussed the opportunity of a partnership between the Independence Police Department and the U.S. Marshals. Since then Martin has been a member of a team responsible for the apprehension of nearly 9,000 fugitives.

"Throughout Jim's tenure with the United States Marshals, he built a bridge between the officers of the Independence Police Department and the members of the United States Marshals," Fitzgibbon said. "Jim has completed extensive training and gained necessary field experience to become a premier fugitive investigator."

Fitzgibbon presented Martin and the city with plaques honoring Martin's service.

"Although I received this award as an individual, it truly is a testament to the effectiveness of our patrol division, detective bureau, command staff and my teammates on the task force," Martin said. "I'm very proud to be a member of the Independence Police Department and U.S. Marshal's Violent Fugitive Task Force. Together, we look forward to serving and protecting the City of Independence and Greater Cleveland area against dangerous fugitives attempting to escape justice."

Also at last week's meeting Independence Council honored Discount Drug Mart and its founder, the Boodjeh family, with Mayor Anthony Togliatti proclaiming April 15 as a day to celebrate 50 years of Discount Drug Mart.

Don Boodjeh, CEO of Discount Drug Mart, thanked Independence for the honor, saying the store has been in the city for 40 years and the Boodjehs have lived in Independence since 1962.

Police, FBI seek help

The suspect was described as a white male in his early 50s, about 6'1", 180 lbs., with a short, sandy, white-colored beard. At the time the suspect was wearing a black Chicago White Sox jacket, a red "Make America Great Again" hat, dark jeans, a beige bandana with black polka dots covering his face and gray sneakers.

Law enforcement is asking the public for assistance in identifying the individual responsible for this robbery. Contact the Cleveland Division of the FBI at 216-522-1400, the Garfield Heights Police Department at 216-475-1234 or Crime Stoppers at 216-252-7463 with tips. Tips can remain anonymous. Reward money is available for information leading to the successful identification and prosecution of the individual responsible.

Fugitive of the Week

The Northern Ohio Violent Fugitive Task Force is offering a reward for information which would lead to the capture of fugitive Neill Hull. Hull is wanted by the United States Marshals Service for failing to appear for sentencing on a dangerous drugs and possession of weapon conviction.

Hull, 39, is a black male, standing approximately 5 feet 10 inches and weighing 250 pounds. Hull's last known address is near the 18800 block of Libby Road, Maple Heights. Hull is

Garfield Hts. man may be allowed to withdraw guilty plea for rape, gross sexual imposition

A Garfield Heights man who previously pleaded guilty to sexually assaulting seven young girls over several years may be allowed to withdraw his pleas and go to trial.

Scott Brundage, 51, previously pleaded guilty on April 2 to one count of rape, a felony of the first degree; three counts of gross sexual imposition, felonies of the third degree; and two counts of gross sexual imposition, felonies of the fourth degree, according to Summit County Prosecutor Sherri Bevan Walsh.

However, during sentencing on April 9, Summit County Judge Mary Margaret Rowlands discussed a letter Brundage sent her saying he was coerced by his attorneys into pleading guilty, according to James Pollack, director of communications for the Summit County Prosecutor's Office.

The court granted his counsel's motion to withdraw as counsel on April 9. The court will set a hearing on Brundage's request to withdraw his guilty pleas at a later date but scheduled a status conference for April 17.

1 bag flaked coconut
1 can of frosting

Cream shortening with sugar, then add eggs. In separate bowl, combine flour, baking powder, salt and vanilla. Alternate pouring flour mixture and milk into shortening, sugar and egg mixture. Bake at 350 degrees for 50 to 60 min. When cool, remove from mold and place on a cookie sheet. Frost and cover with coconut. Use toothpicks to secure the neck and ears.

Slavic Village legend, Tony Zajac, passes away

Tony Zajac, a lifelong Cleveland and retired executive assistant to Ward 12 Cleveland Councilman Tony Brancatelli, died yesterday, April 16.

Zajac began his career in banking at the former Cleveland Trust (Ameritrust/Key) Bank where he earned a degree from the American Institute of Banking and became manager. After dedicating 30 years to the field of banking he retired and in 1990 began his second career as an executive assistant to former Cleveland City Councilman Edward W. Rybka. He continued in that position under Brancatelli, retiring in 2017.

"He truly loved his job at City Hall," Brancatelli said. "He looked at this as his second home for nearly 30 years, and he loved our city."

Zajac was a member of many boards and commissions during his tenure as a public servant, including the Broadway Area Housing Coalition, Slavic Village Development, RTA Advisory Board and the Department of Aging's Senior Advisory Panel. He also served as an ambassador and tour guide at Cleveland City Hall for youth groups, schools and thousands of visitors and was extremely instrumental in supporting the 100th anniversary celebration of the construction of City Hall, where he prominently displayed some of his postcards that reflected the history of the building.

Zajac earned several awards and honors and was named "Senior of the Year" for Ward 12 in 2017. As an avid gardener whose love of plants and gardening started at Harvey Rice Elementary School in the fourth grade, his home on Claasen Avenue had been showcased during the neighborhood GardenWalk. As a Cleveland history buff with a focus on industrial and historical buildings, one of Zajac's greatest hobbies was collecting postcards and memorabilia of Cleveland. He owned more than 1,800 engraved postcards.

Services for Zajac will be announced after the holidays.

Valley View to begin charging grass-cutting fee to elderly, disabled

By Danielle Toth

Valley View Village Council passed an ordinance at its April 2 meeting that will allow the village to begin charging elderly or disabled residents a $100 fee for participation in the grass-cutting program. Previously, the village did not charge for grass-cutting to these residents through the program. However, instituting a fee will help Valley View cover some of its costs, Councilman Brad Borowy said.

"Even with the fee, the residents eligible for the program are receiving a great benefit that most communities don't offer," Borowy said.

Mayor Jerry Piasecki said he was concerned that residents may have certain expectations that arise because of the fee, but that the village will handle those as best it can. He also stated that he "doesn't like that council is shaking down the seniors."

Elderly or disabled residents qualify for the grass-cutting program if they are 65 years of age or older or temporarily or permanently disabled. They must sign an affidavit saying there is no able-bodied person ages 16-65 residing with the resident who is capable of mowing the lawn. Residents must submit a new application every year and sign a statement authorizing the city to mow the lawn. Medically impaired residents must present a doctor's certificate or other proof stating the disability along with the application. The home must also be owner-occupied.

Council also accepted a bid of $596,129.90 from Vandra Brothers for Phase 4 of the Strathmore Subdivision-Longspur Court pavement reconstruction project. This is a pavement rehabilitation project included in the village's capital plan that provides for full reconstruction of the street in the Strathmore subdivision.

At the meeting, Piasecki said council funded the Strathmore Paving and Erosion Fund several months ago. He cannot support the project, he said, because there are many roadways throughout the village in much worse condition that receive much more traffic than Longspur Court, which is a cul-de-sac. Piasecki also said the funds could be better spent on erosion problems in the same area. However, council unanimously passed the ordinance.

Council accepted the base bid of $383,800 from Building Technicians Corp. for the Community Center roofing project. The roof must be completed by October 31, and there will be safeguards to ensure its completion, Engineer Todd Sciano said.

Piasecki updated council on the centennial celebration, saying the Centennial Committee is working on the ceremonies. Residents received invitations the last week of March. The main event is a clock dedication, which will occur May 5 at 2 p.m. The men's club will donate a time capsule, and the city will also release a historical book about the village.

Fire Chief Papesh noted that Firefighter Dave Troxell retired and thanked him for his service.

Other legislation that passed included:

- An updated ordinance authorizing a renewal tax levy for parks and recreation. While this ordinance was already passed, the Board of Elections asked for some changes in the wording.

- An ordinance amending the fire department's testing and promotions requirements.

- An authorization for the Recreation Department to pay for pool passes for summer camp counselors, 50 percent of the cost of pool passes for village residents and to reimburse the Blue Wave swim team members for their pool passes at the end of their season with a cost not to exceed $10,000.

- An authorization for the service department to upgrade the system at the fuel pumps through Cuyahoga Landmark and PC Alternatives at a total cost of $22,111.

- An authorization for the village to hire Better Together Solar to remove and reinstall the solar panels on the roof of the community center as part of the roof recover project at a cost of $28,700.
